

Caught Reading in unusual places!

New Literacy Trust research has revealed that the place children most love to read is in bed – with other top contenders including on the sofa, in the library and when travelling on a bus, train or plane. Children also revealed the strangest places they enjoying escaping with a book, such as on the toilet, up a tree and on a trampoline!

To celebrate World Book Day, we are inviting children to share a photo of the place they most love to #getlostinreading.

See examples below for inspiration!

Upload your
#getlostinreading photo
on to Satchel One no later than Wednesday 5th March 2025 in time
for World Book Day 2025!